ABOUT THIS PROFILE

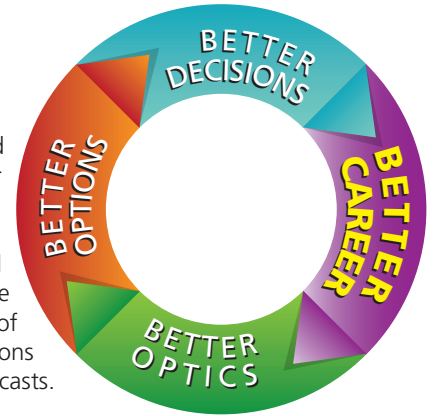

The DRT Personality Profile has been designed to succinctly provide you with an overview of your Personality Traits, your Social Behavior as well as your General Characteristics.

THE IDEA BEHIND THE DRT SYSTEM

The quality of your decisions can make or break the change you ultimately seek in your career. Better career decisions come from knowing what CAREER OPTIONS you have at any given point in time. If the quality or number of options is limited, your ability to make 'better' decisions would be more challenging.

THE MECHANICS OF THE DRT CAREER PROFILING SYSTEM

The DRT or Decision Referential Technology™ refers to the system developed by Joey Yap Research International, designed to help people make better decisions in life by analyzing the individual's personality. It traces its roots to the principle fundamentals of the ancient time-tested system of Chinese Astrology (BaZi), which has evolved over the years to become simpler and more applicable in today's workforce context. It is a powerful and accurate system that has proven success and efficacy throughout the course of Chinese history. The findings are based on a science of complex calculations and intricate theories, and involve more than the typical Animal Sign forecasts. More information on this subject is available at www.drtprofile.com.
